PERSONAL PROJECTS

Props' Store

For my FYP I build web application using MERN stack. It was basically a real estate website where people can advertise their home or purchase and rent a house. They can also hire a contractor for construction of the houses according to their own need. Roles:

- Design and development of both backend and front end.
- Database design and implementation.
- Resolve operational and development issues by proper and timely resolution and handling.

Tools & Technology

JavaScript, React.js, Node.js, Express.js, VS Code, Postman, MongoDB, Bootstrap, HTML5, CSS3.

eNotes

eNotes is a web-based react application to create and manage the notes. It also allows user to create the account and keep the notes private with proper authentication.

Roles:

- Design and development of both backend and front end.
- Database design and implementation.
- Resolve operational and development issues by proper and timely resolution and handling.
